Lobbying begins for Yoga with PM Modi at Palace

Yoga shalas, educational institutions, resident associations vie for a place

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, June 5- Everyone wants to be at the Mysore Palace on June 21 to stretch and bend with Prime Minister Narendra Modi who will lead the mass Yoga performance of 2022. And lobbying for a place in the Palace has already begun.

First, it was announced that over 12,000 people will be inside the Palace campus. Later it was changed to 15,000 as the authorities are in a fix or are under pressure to include many who are seeking representation.

The final call will be taken by the AYUSH Ministry, AYUSH Department in Mysuru in coordination with the Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga. Sources told Star of Mysore that the registrations for the June 21 event will be open through Google Forms in a day or two.

Thanks to the increasing number of Yoga enthusiasts in Mysuru and the tempo that has seen steady growth over the last eight years, the demand to hobnob with the PM and other VVIPS has also increased. The demand increases in the coming days as the D-Day approaches.

While the administration is sprucing the Palace campus and surrounding areas and also keeping alternate venues ready in case of rains, they are also awaiting response from the AYUSH Ministry and Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga who will take a final call on the number of participants based on the directives obtained from the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) and the Special Protection Group (SPG).

'Balancing career, health and relationship leads to success'

Keep dreams alive, says well-known author Chetan Bhagat in Mysuru

Author and motivational speaker Chetan Bhagat speaks at KSOU Convocation Hall in city last evening.

Mysuru, June 5 (NS)- A fine balance between career, health and relationship is what leads to one's success and not being able to manage any one of them, disturbs this balance and success becomes elusive, opined well-known author Chetan Bhagat.

Delivering a motivational talk on "Definition of Success" at the Karnataka State Open University Convocation Hall last evening, an event organised by Event Mitra, Chetan said, "All of us constantly seek approval from others and do not realise that we are not living for ourselves. Most of the time, our behaviour depends on how others react and we lose focus on what we actually want."

Sharing his own experience, Chetan said a simple comment by his friend on how much he earned as a writer, made him lose focus on what he set out to do and in the rat race for earning money, he lost the balance needed for success and by the time he got back on track, it took a toll on him.

"When the balance is lost, not only does success elude you, it also makes you unhappy. An unhappy person can never make others happy, so it is imperative to keep ourselves happy by doing what we want. Living for ourselves doesn't mean we are selfish but just that it helps us focus better, leading to what we understand as success and eventually making us happy. Happy people attract a lot of good and help them keep their dreams alive," he told the audience.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

People may ask, "If God is everywhere, if every living being is a manifestation of Brahmn, then why do we need to go to the temple?" There are many reasons. The most important one is that a temple is not only the home of God; it is a concentration of divine energy.

Additionally, the temple building itself is constructed in such a way as to maximise the concentration of positive, sacred and peaceful energies.

Ancient rishis and saints could realise God through their meditations. They lived high in the Himalayas and in secluded forests. There were few distractions, and their lives were focussed on one thing: attaining the Divine vision. They, therefore, did not need temples. Their world was their temple. However, today our lives are flooded with material desires, mundane tasks, and logistical concerns. We live in a world that indoctrinates us to crave only sensual pleasures and material wealth. It is difficult for this world to seem like a temple. Therefore, we must have a place which is sacred, a place which is holy, a place in which our sole purpose is becoming one with God, a place in which we hang up our daily concerns and troubles like coats at the door. We must have a place which focuses our mind on the true meaning in life. The temple serves this purpose.

Yet, a temple should not only be a place in which we worship. It should become the focal point of our lives, an extended family, a place where children come to learn about their heritage as well as to play with their peers; a place of celebration during times of joy, as well as a place of comfort and solace during times of grief.

Your temple should feed every aspect of your being: your heart, your mind, your stomach, and your soul. Then, it will truly be a temple, not just a building.

Cake weighs 80 kg and 2 mts wide

Britain: What do you get if you mix 160 eggs, 8kg of dark chocolate and 15kg of orange jelly? The world's largest-ever Jaffa Cake, of course.

The tasty feat was accomplished by former Great British Bake Off winner Frances Quinn alongside McVitie's staff using the company's top secret recipe. The giant cake - and yes, Jaffa Cakes are cakes - was the equivalent of 6,557 regular-sized Jaffa Cakes and measured 175cm in diameter.

Ms Quinn baked the 80kg creation in celebration of the 15th anniversary of the Britain's Got Talent programme. She said: "I hope audiences watching the show at the live semi-finals enjoyed tucking in and celebrating the contestants this year." Ms Quinn, who won the fourth series of The Great British Bake Off in 2013, broke her own Guinness World Record set in 2017 with the feat.

The largest plant in the world

Western Australia : Researchers from The University of Western Australia and Flinders University said that the world's largest plant has been discovered. The news release stated that the plant is an ancient and extraordinarily robust seagrass which stretches 111.847 miles and is at about 4,500 years old.

Elizabeth Sinclair with the UWA Oceans Institute, a senior author of the study and a professor in UWA's School of Biological Sciences said that they were frequently asked how many distinct plants thrive in seagrass meadows, so they employed genetic methods to find out. The researchers took samples of seagrass sprouts from all over Shark Bay and discovered that they all stemmed from the same plant. The shocking fact revealed was only one plant has spread over 180 kms (111 miles) in Shark Bay, making it the world's largest plant. According to them, the underwater meadow seemed to have grown from a single seedling.

Govt. fixes EPF interest rate at 8.1 percent for FY 22

New Delhi, June 5 (UNI)- The Centre on Friday fixed Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) interest rate at 8.1 percent for financial year 2022.

The Ministry of Labour and Employment has conveyed approval of the Central Government to credit 8.1 percent of interest for 2021-22 to each member of the EPF scheme, an EPFO Office order said.

The interest rate, lowest in the last four decades, is set to impact 60 million subscribers.

The EPFO had in March proposed to cut the interest rate on provident fund deposits from 8.5 percent to 8.1 percent for the financial year 2021-22.

The EPFO had added 1.53 million subscribers in March this year. It was 19 percent more than 1.28 million enrolled in February.

The 8.5 percent rate of interest for 2020-21 was decided by the Central Board of Trustees (CBT) in March and ratified by the Ministry of Finance in October last year.

The EPF interest rate for 2019-20 was at 8.5 percent, for 2017-18 it was 8.55 percent and for 2016-17 it was 8.65 percent.

In 2015-16 it was 8.8 percent and 8.75 percent in 2015-16. The EPFO had given 8.5 percent for 2012-13 and 8.25 percent in 2011-12.

Rahul slams Centre

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi on Saturday took a dig at the Narendra Modi-led Government at the Centre over cut in interest rate of Employees' Provident Fund (EPF).

He ridiculed the Modi model as 'increase inflation, income reduce model' of the ruling dispensation.

"Just by calling one's residential address as 'Lok Kalyan Marg' it need not bring welfare to people. The Prime Minister implemented the 'increase inflation, income reduce model' to destroy the present and future of 6.5 crore employees,' he tweeted.

The former Congress President along with his tweet also shared a graphic showing the cut in EPF interest rate since 2015.

REALLY...?

- Ancient Greeks knew how to hold their liquor from a young age. Rites of passage included giving three-year-old children their first jug from which they sipped their first taste of wine.
- Ancient Greek writers referred to wine as 'sweet', 'dry' or 'sour'. There were white wines and black wines (equivalent of red wine today). The wine from Kos was good and relatively inexpensive. Higher quality wines came from Rhodes. Artemidorus described a drink called melogion which "is more intoxicating than wine" and "made by first boiling some honey with water and then adding a bit of herb." Homer described a drink made from wine, barley meal, honey and goat cheese.

VOICE OF THE READER

Improve easy accessibility
in Chamundi and Rajya Rani Express

Sir,

Prompted by K. Chandrahas' letter in Star of Mysore dated May 19, I would like to draw the attention of Railway authorities to two important observations and suggestions.

1. Both Chamundi and Rajya Rani Express trains carry the same formation of the coaches. While the latter train's name-board is displayed on the coaches, Chamundi's name is conspicuously missed out (sorry if I have missed to see all the coaches of the train).

If my observation is correct, kindly rectify the same. It is the first of a few trains starting daily in the morning and it does not augur well to miss the name of the most powerful Goddess (Chamundi).

2. Reserved coaches of the above trains, namely D1 and D2 are located very near the engine along with the AC coach.

Length of the train being so long, 21/22 coaches, and the location of the coaches being far away from the entrance at Mysuru, it is very difficult to walk the distance by the aged and such other passengers.

Battery-operated vehicle is not always available for all. Further, at the destination, namely KSR Bengaluru, the difficulty becomes worse, because of the train reaching 9th or 10th PF (Platform) and huge crowds all along the PFs. It is important to note that the lift facility is available only in the centre of the PFs. Also, the KSR Metro bridge connecting the main line is at the rear end of the trains when proceeding from Mysuru. This makes it doubly difficult for Namma Metro-bound passengers and many do so for the sake of safety and faster travel.

I therefore suggest to slightly alter the formation with a couple of reserved coaches at the rear end of the train as well as the front end. Those with the intention of taking the Metro may be given a choice to seek preference in the rear coaches, while booking at the reservation counters.

Shortage of TTE (Travelling Ticket Examiner) etc., may be the reasons for clubbing all the reserved coaches together at one end. But what about the passengers' problems?

Transgender Chandini's pro-people activities get public appreciation

Mysuru, June 5 (GA&TRR) - It is a known fact that transgenders are often ridiculed and are usually not treated with respect by our society. But a transgender woman from city has attracted the attention of the general public through her pro-people works.

Chandini (Aslam Pasha), a resident of Bademakan near Tipu Circle, is running a Fair Price Shop at Sathagalli in city and leading a respectable life. In addition, she has started an e-Service Centre and helping other transgenders and general public to get various benefits that are being offered by the Governments. With her pro-people activities, she is now earning praises from the society which once ridiculed and offended her.

Chandini was born as the son to Vazir Ahmed and Shanaz Begum in 1978. She had a normal childhood like any other child and completed her primary education at Sri Venkateshwara School in city and completed High School at Mallikarjuna School.

Noticing physical changes and behaviour, Chandini was thrown out of the house by her parents. Later, she made friends with transgenders and travelled to Mumbai with their help, lived there for one year and came back to Mysuru.

After her return, her parents made her join the school again and Chandini passed SSLC examination with flying colours. Though she later went to Maharaja's College to pursue studies, she discontinued studies unable to bear the ridicule of fellow students. Chandini later entered politics by joining various parties.

Meanwhile, she passed PUC and obtained BA degree through Distant Education and from then on was working towards getting benefits given by the Governments to the transgenders and the general public by contacting concerned Department officials. She also contested unsuccessfully the Assembly elections as an independent candidate.

Using various special facilities given by the Governments, Chandini herself opened a Fair Price Shop and e-Service Centre to help other transgenders and general public to get Aadhaar Card, Ration Card, PAN Card and Pension for senior citizens which has won appreciation from the beneficiaries and also from the general public.

Chandini at her e-Service Centre, helping people avail various Government benefits.

> People still treat us the same way. When they see a transgender, they behave differently. We are not given house for rent. Many transgenders, who have pursued their education, have secured good positions. Every transgender must pursue education as change is possible only through education, says Chandini.

Students must have a positive mindset: IPS officer Ravi Channannavar

50-day competitive exam training camp concludes at KSOU

Mysuru, June 5 (MTY&TRR)- The Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) Competitive Examinations' Training Centre which had organised a 50-day training camp for students appearing for IAS/KAS examinations concluded on Tuesday.

IPS Officer Ravi D. Channannavar inaugurated the valedictory function of the camp held at Ganga auditorium, KSOU and guided the students about how to prepare for the IAS/KAS and other competitive examinations.

"Every person has two options, to have a positive mindset or a negative mindset. While a positive mindset guides one to reading books and good friends, negative mindset encourages bad habits and wastage of time," he said and advised students to have a positive mindset.

Stating that having a study time-table is a must for those who take up competitive examinations, he felt that without a proper time-table it is difficult to get success. "Those who decide that they have no life without passing UPSC examinations and work hard, will pass out successfully in one year. For this, you have to work hard like a running deer trying to escape from a chasing cheetah," added the IPS Officer.

"Those who want to take UPSC examinations should give priority to main examinations and prepare for the examination based on the question papers of previous ten years. After this, they should concentrate on general knowledge and current affairs. This formula is necessary for all those who take up competitive examinations," said Ravi Channannavar and concluded by saying that those who dream of building a good society, should possess the goal of securing high positions.

KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof. S. Vidyashankar, who spoke on the occasion, said that achievement is not the property of anyone and there are many ups and downs in the path of achievement and success can be achieved when the problems are faced with courage.

Citing the example of a tongawalla's son, who recently passed out the UPSC examinations, he said relentless efforts, strong will and systematic study will bring the desired results.

KSOU Registrar Prof. R. Rajanna, Finance Officer Dr. A. Khadar Pasha, Centre Coordinator Jainahalli Sathyanarayanagowda and others were present on the occasion.

Bylakuppe Tibetan area gets an ornate entrance arch

Eight auspicious symbols of Tibetan Buddhism depicted in the arch which cost Rs. 35 lakh

Bylakuppe, June 5 (Rajesh&KS)- An attractive arch gate depicting eight auspicious symbols of Tibetan Buddhism has been constructed at the entrance of the Tibetan settlement in Bylakuppe at a cost of Rs. 35 lakh.

The construction had begun about two years ago but the CIVID-19 pandemic had hampered the works. As such, the gate was recently completed. The main entrance arch was inaugurated by Sikyong Penpa Tsering, President of the Central Tibetan Administration on June 1.

The two pillars of the main entrance arch have eight auspicious symbols of Tibetan Buddhism (four on each pillar) which have been sculpted by artists from Nepal. The entrance arch, constructed on the road leading to Tibetan settlement, off the B.M. Road is attracting many passers-by, who are stopping their vehicles to have a closer look at the eight auspicious symbols, sculpted on the two golden coloured pillars and filled with relevant colours.

The eight auspicious symbols sculpted on the pillars are:

The Precious Parasol- which gives protection from all evil; the White Conch Shell - which represents the fame of Buddha's teachings that spread in all directions like the sound of the conch shell; the Two Golden Fish - which symbolise being saved from the ocean of earthly life and suffering; the Knot of Eternity - which represents the intertwining of wisdom and compassion, the perfection of knowledge; the Vase of Great Treasures - a traditional symbol of good fortune representing the perfect nature of the dharma, longevity and prosperity.

The others are, the Victory Banner - which signifies the victory of the enlightened teachings, knowledge over ignorance, overcoming all hindrances and the attainment of happiness; the Lotus Flower - one of Buddhism's most significant symbols. It is a symbol of enlightenment and mental purity. The lotus has its roots in mud, but blossoms into a beautiful flower.

Similarly, though an individual may be impure, there is the potential to gain enlightenment and the perfect state. The last one is the Eight-Spoked Wheel - known as the Wheel of Dharma, which represents the Noble Eightfold Path of the Buddhadharma. The wheel that leads to perfection.

Woman ends life over alleged dowry harassment

Shwetha

Bettadapura, June 5 (Shivdev &KS)- A woman, depressed over frequent harassment for dowry by her husband and his family members, committed suicide by consuming poison. The incident took place on June 1 at Kittur Doddegowdanakoppal village.

The deceased is Shwetha (23), wife of Basavaraju alias Pradeep of the village. A native of Kellur village, Shwetha was given in marriage to Pradeep, son of Sarojamma and Chikkegowda couple of Kittur Doddegowdanakoppal village two years ago.

According to the complaint lodged by Lokesh, father of Shwetha with Bettadapura Police, Pradeep along with his mother Sarojamma began harassing her for dowry since the day she got married and depressed over this, Shwetha had attempted to commit suicide by jumping into a canal but was saved by villagers. Later, village elders had advised Pradeep and Shwetha to lead a happy life.

Lokesh has further stated in the complaint that even after his daughter Shwetha got pregnant, Pradeep, Sarojamma and Pradeep's sister Latha did not stop harassing her and had also confined her in their house without sending her to her parents' house.

Depressed over this, Shwetha, on June 1, consumed poison in a bid to end her life and was rushed to K.R. Hospital in Mysuru where she breathed her last on Friday, the complaint added.

Shwetha leaves behind her son. Bettadapura Police, who have registered a case against Pradeep, Sarojamma and Latha, are investigating.

'Success comes only if failure is accepted graciously'

Engaging the audience with questions, anecdotes and humorous incidents, Chetan was at the same time entertaining the audience who sat with rapt attention. His humour-laced speech left the crowd in splits on many occasions. His talk was also interspersed with motivational incidents and stories.

"Success of course comes only when you want to succeed, as there is an infinite landscape of excuses for us not to pursue success," he said and stressed on how specific goals are imperative to be successful. Long-term efforts are what pay off and there aren't any hacks to take one there, he added.

Chetan strongly felt that in the present times, there isn't any competition for those who are focussed on their goals, simply because most of their peers are so distracted with social media and their phones. He advised students to strictly cut down on their screen time, as this is designed to drain productivity.

"Distractions are like pani puri, just a side dish to be relished once in a while. Goals are like staple food that helps us keep going. We generally believe that a happy life is one that has no pains, but joy and pain are interrelated and the pains we endure in our pursuit of success lead to positive productivity. When our tolerance to pain is zero, our achievements too are zero and hence we need to choose our pains," he advised.

Chetan also asked the youth not to let their romantic dreams overtake their goals. This was his first live programme post-COVID he said and added that he was delighted to be in the town to which R.K. Narayan, one of his greatest inspirations, belonged to.

'Icons of Mysore'

Sudhanva Dhananjaya, Founder and CEO, Excelsoft Technologies, Mysuru and Arjun Ranga, Managing Director, Cycle Pure Agarbathi, Mysuru and the Chairman of the Confederation of Indian Industry's (CII) Karnataka State Council were felicitated as the 'Icons of Mysore'.

Accepting the felicitation, Sudhanva expressed his happiness at how Mysuru has come a long way in different fields and is a big name today after Bengaluru. Arjun Ranga said that Cycle Pure Agarbathi will be the first FMCG company to offset the use of plastics by 2025.

Shreya, General Manager, Events Mitra introduced Chetan Bhagat. Before Chetan spoke, Chowchowbath, a music group from Mysuru, entertained the audience with popular film songs.

KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof. S. Vidyashankar, Founder-Editor of Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra K.B. Ganapathy, Managing Editor, Chairman and Managing Director K.G. Vikram Muthanna, STG Group of Institutions CEO and MD C.P. Shivaraj, CEO of Plutus Property Management and event partner Girish Baga and Manjunath were present.

Chetan's advice to guys on getting back girlfriends

What kind of a relationship can you build with a person you have to run behind so much? There are a lot more girls of your age. Go find someone else and don't waste time pursuing someone who doesn't want you. My advice to all the young men: Build muscles, make money. Everything else will come to you." This was in response to a question by a youth asking Chetan how to get his girlfriend back (referring to his novel 'Half Girlfriend')

Chetan wondered why there were only Saas-Bahu (mother-in-law and daughter-in-law) serials on TV and nothing on Saas-Damaad. "Sons-in-law too have their share of grouses to share and must be heard. My mother-in-law is from Karnataka and I have failed to impress her. But today as I am in Mysuru, she will be impressed," he said.

"Don't ever get involved in politics. Make money, pay your taxes and serve the nation" was Chetan's reply to a question on how to overcome political distractions.

How does he overcome failures? "Stay focussed on what I want and what I have learnt. I started my YouTube channel during the COVID time. Some talks have done well, some haven't. It has become very popular but I've also learnt from them."

In the meantime, the scramble to get into the list of participants at the Palace has already begun and each institution — be it schools and colleges, Yoga training institutes or resident welfare associations — is seeking representation at the venue that will be a high-security zone.

Yoga Federation of Mysore President and GSS Foundation Head D. Srihari said that the Federation has over 250 members including Yoga institutes and schools and there are over 100 individual teachers. Overall, there are more than 3,000 Yoga teachers and students from Yoga schools and institutes in Mysuru that come under the Federation. And there are schools and colleges numbering over 400 to 500.

"Even if you take 10 participants from a school or a college, the number will touch 5,000. In addition, there are NCC, NSS and Scouts and Guides, associations and healthcare organisations and they all will seek representation in the Palace to be in the vicinity of the PM's performance. Also, the administration has asked the Federation to give a list of expert trainers who can train others for June 21 and the list will be ready in another two or three days," he added.

After confirmation of Modi's Yoga Day visit, many resident welfare associations have decided to seek representation in the event. The Lopamudra Kodava Sangha in Vijayanagar First Stage gave a call to all its members to attend the rehearsal at Palace on June 5 (today) which was the first rehearsal as per the Yoga protocol to be followed on June 21. The Sangha has plans to attend the main Yoga Day celebrations in 'full strength'. Along with the Vijayanagar Association, many other resident welfare associations too have sent out a communication to their members to show up at rehearsals so that they can get a chance to perform on June 21.

Idea of shifting to Race Course

The stakeholders of the tourism and hospitality industry had approached Union Minister Pralhad Joshi urging him to change the venue from the Mysore Palace to the Mysore Race Course so that at least one lakh Yoga enthusiasts could perform.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Federation of Organisations and Associations of Mysuru (FOAM) President B.S. Prashanth said that they had suggested shifting the venue to the Race Course as many would love to do Yoga with PM Modi. "It is a dream to perform Yoga with the PM. Since it is a 75th Independence year, it made more sense to keep a crowd of 75,000 inside the Race Course," he said.

But the FOAM proposal was not accepted as the Special Protection Group will have to clear the proposal and it would be impossible to frisk 75,000 people within a set time.

Prof. Aravinda Malagatti laments on revision of School textbooks based on party ideology

Mysuru, June 5 (MTY&TRR)- "To change School textbooks based on the ideology and in favour of a political party is an insult to the culture of letters and is an effort to create bankruptcy in the minds of children," regretted writer Prof. Aravinda Malagatti.

He was speaking at a function organised jointly by Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies (KIKS) and Yadunandana Prakashna at BM Sri auditorium recently to mark the release of 15 books written by Dr. S.D. Shashikala.

"After other religious controversies, now efforts are on to twist school textbooks which raises concern about the future of our children. The culture of letters is in danger and teachers must safeguard the dignity and respect of this culture," he advised.

"The present bad state of affairs is a good example to illustrate what happens if those who are not fit to be in education field are given positions in Textbooks Revision Committee," he said.

"Nobody should play with the minds of school children. Let us allow intellectual clashes at higher education centres which becomes meaningful and might lead to new ways of exploration. But it is not proper to create fights at Primary and Middle School levels. Changes are necessary in any field, but it should be healthy," he opined.

"Vijaya Dabbe provided a strong foundation for Feminism. Though we can trace pro-women approach in Kannada literature earlier, Vijaya Dabbe provided it the ideological base. She thought about feminism suitable to the Kannada language and provided an alternate thought based on western feminism. Vijaya Dabbe followed a unique way and that was the reason for establishing her own identity," analysed Prof. Aravinda Malagatti.

At the function, books written by Dr. S.D. Shashikala — Prayogika Vimarshe, Kuvempu Sahityodyandallondu Vihara, Kowravahati Vyaparadol, Guruvagrahike, Vijaya Dabbeyavara Jeevana Mattu Kavya, and edited works of Sri Chamarajendra Wadiyar and Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, written by M. Shingraiah, Kannada Bhashe-Sahitya Mattu Samskruti and 7 Volumes of Vijaya Dabbe literature were released.

KIKS Director Prof. Vijayakumari S. Karikal, former Director Prof. M.G. Manjunatha, retired Director Prof. Preethi Shubhachandra, author and Assistant Professor Dr. S.D. Shashikala, Rajesh G. Honnenahalli of Yadunandana Prakashana and others were present on the occasion.

Swiatek wins second French Open Title

Iga Swiatek celebrating with French Open winner's trophy.

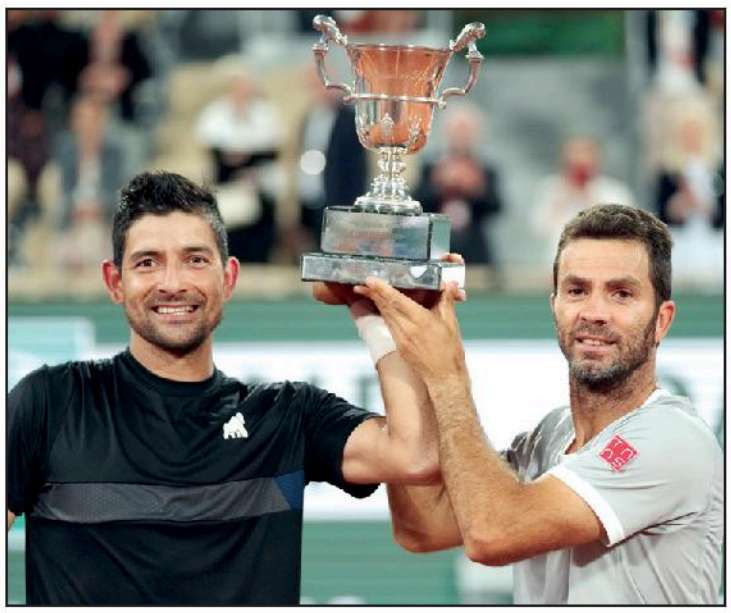
Paris, June 5- Iga Swiatek cruised to her second French Open title by dominating teenager Coco Gauff in the final on Saturday, as the World No. 1 claimed her 35th successive victory. The 21-year-old Pole stormed to a 6-1, 6-3 win in only 68 minutes on Court Philippe Chatrier, equalling Venus Williams' record for the longest winning run by a woman in the 21st century. Swiatek celebrated her sixth straight title this year in the players' box with her friends and family.

A disconsolate Gauff was left sitting on her seat in tears after a nervous performance, punctuated by 23 unforced errors and three double faults.

The 18-year-old American came up short in her bid to become the youngest Grand Slam Singles Champion since Maria Sharapova won Wimbledon in 2004. Swiatek, only the 10th woman to win multiple French Opens in the Open era, lost just one set in the tournament — against China's Zheng Qinwen in the fourth round.

She has now won all three of her career meetings with Gauff, who was playing in her first Major final.

Gauff will now turn her attentions to Sunday's (June 5) Doubles final, where she will face home favourites Caroline Garcia and Kristina Mladenovic alongside compatriot Jessica Pegula.



Marcelo Arevalo of El Salvador became Central America's first Grand Slam Champion on Saturday when he teamed with Jean-Julien Rojer of the Netherlands to win the French Open Men's Doubles title. The 12th seeds saved three match points in defeating Ivan Dodig of Croatia and Austin Krajicek of the United States 6-7 (4/7), 7-6 (7/5), 6-3 in a little over three hours.

WORD OF THE DAY

Propagate

Pronunciation: PRAH-puh-gayt.
Meaning: Propagate is used in contexts relating to biology to mean "to produce offspring," and in general contexts to mean "to make (something, such as an idea or belief) known to or accepted by many people."
Origin: The origins of propagate are firmly rooted in the field of horticulture. The word is a 16th century Latin borrowing, ultimately from the verb propagare, which means "to set (onto a plant) a small shoot or twig cut for planting or grafting." The word's meaning quickly extended from the realm of the farm and field to less material kinds of reproduction, such as the spreading of ideas and beliefs. The similarity between propagate and propaganda is not coincidental; that word also comes to us from propagare, although it took a more circuitous route.
Example: "The Michigan birds were allowed to propagate, and when flocks became large enough, some would be live-trapped and moved elsewhere in the state to propagate further, and more turkeys were obtained from other states, such as Iowa." — Tom Lounsbury, The Manistee (Michigan) News Advocate, 17 Apr. 2022.

THE ODD WORD

Palmate
Hand-shaped.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Step up to the plate

Meaning: The phrase 'Step up to the plate' means to accept a challenge or responsibility for something; to rise to the occasion.
Origin: You probably won't be surprised to learn that the origin of the idiom 'step up to the plate' is baseball. No one is certain when the term was first used as an idiom, but the expression is a very easy one to understand. When a baseball player is prepared to receive a pitch, he or she 'steps up to the plate' to indicate readiness.
Example: "It's time for Tom to step up to the plate & take on his share of work."
